In Memoriam

His smiling face no longer there
Our look of sadness
Then a prayer

To keep the hope within us, then
The promise that
We'll meet again.

In solemn thought why his life should end
We still remember him--
Our friend.

By: Sharon Clifford

Dedication

A Tribute To Mrs. Mary Taylor

She was one who taught, never preached;
One who praised, did not condemn;
Laughed with--not at;
She was calm, poised, pleasant--not dull.
One who helped, never hindered;
Inspired, never stifled;
Saw promise, not failure;
In other words, the ability to work
Appreciatively and pleasantly with
Other people was her forte.

Robbinsville School is a panorama of many faces--faces that reflect the experiences of learning. These faces sometimes laugh, sometimes speak, and sometimes remain quiet. Their character lines are deepened by enjoyment of sound and color, and are intensified by seriousness of purpose.

Let's walk together the paths of Robbinsville School '66-'67 and view its many faces.

Sometimes we are faces of a Crowd

Sometimes all Alone

Sometimes we are with someone Special

Juanita and Larry

Aquilla and Helen

Clarice Ann and Darrell

There are times when our faces reflect Worry — Seriously

Mr. Walsh uses Board of Education on some seniors who think attending class is a waste of time

Aquilla is determined not to send that ring back

Cherr

Then not so
Seriously

Sandra feels quite confident she'll pass the test

There are times we Dream – Seriously

Joyce Walker

Carolyn outside elementary building

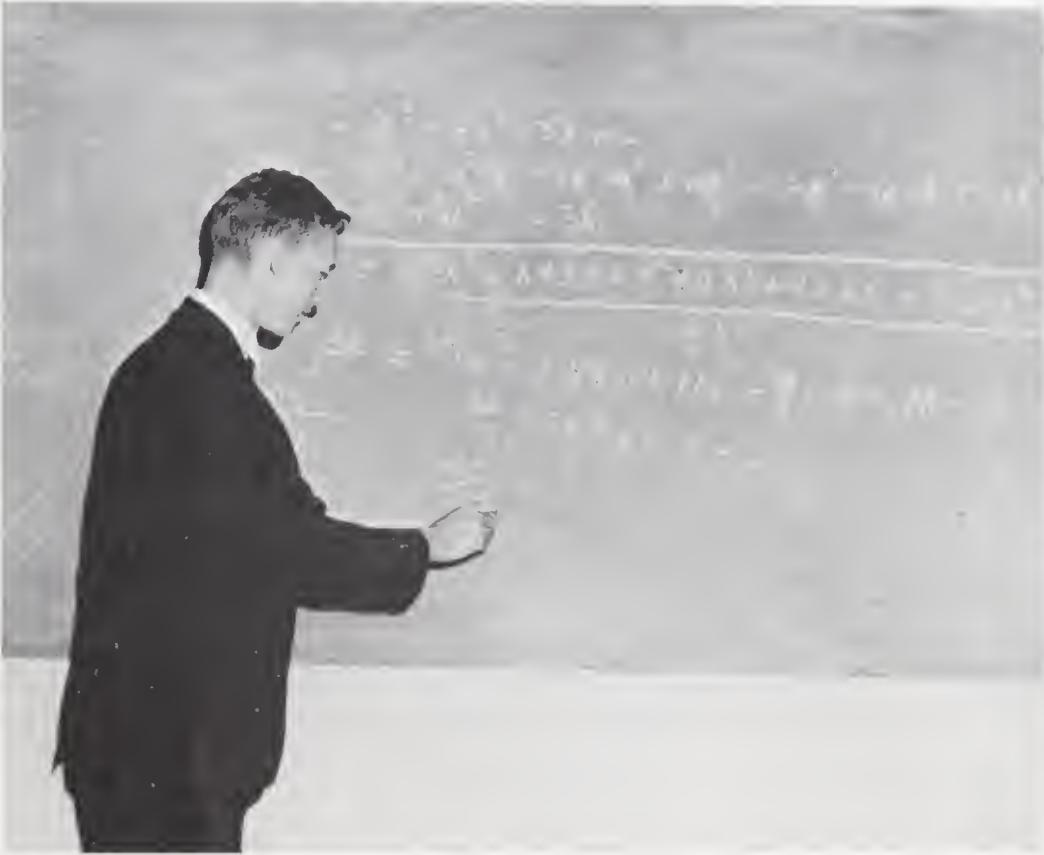

Then not so Seriously

Hugh Darrel and Randall catch a nap in teachers' lounge

There are times when our faces reveal Tiredness from hard work, both mental

Tony does all this just to find the value of X

Ruby works for 100 wpm

and physical

Seniors work for trip funds

Buster and Michael shine up counselor's office

They cook and serve 1012 meals daily

And always we exemplify eagerness to Play

Bear hug?

We like this subject best

Jerry practices what
Shope preaches

They look like softballs to me

Sometimes our faces shine with Happiness

Cheri

Graduation has arrived

Cheri is chosen Decca Sweetheart

School is dismissed for holidays

Rings arrive

Washington, here we come

Sometimes with Pride in our school

Senior Rings Arrive

Cheri is Runner-up for W. N. C. Deca Sweetheart.

Joyce Welch prepares to take her PSAT test.

Sometimes we are lost in Despair

TOP: When we get caught skipping by our father.

LEFT: It was such a close game.

BOTTOM: Studying for exams.

Sometimes we Laugh at ourselves over silly mistakes.

Allene enjoys punishment for leaving school grounds.

Practice makes perfect?

Girls, why didn't you tell me
the trash can was behind me.

But we determine to begin again and reach further goals

LeRoy and Gerri plan for the future

LeRoy studies for a score of 100

Gerri is happy she's back in school

Clarice Ann keeps increasing her typing speed

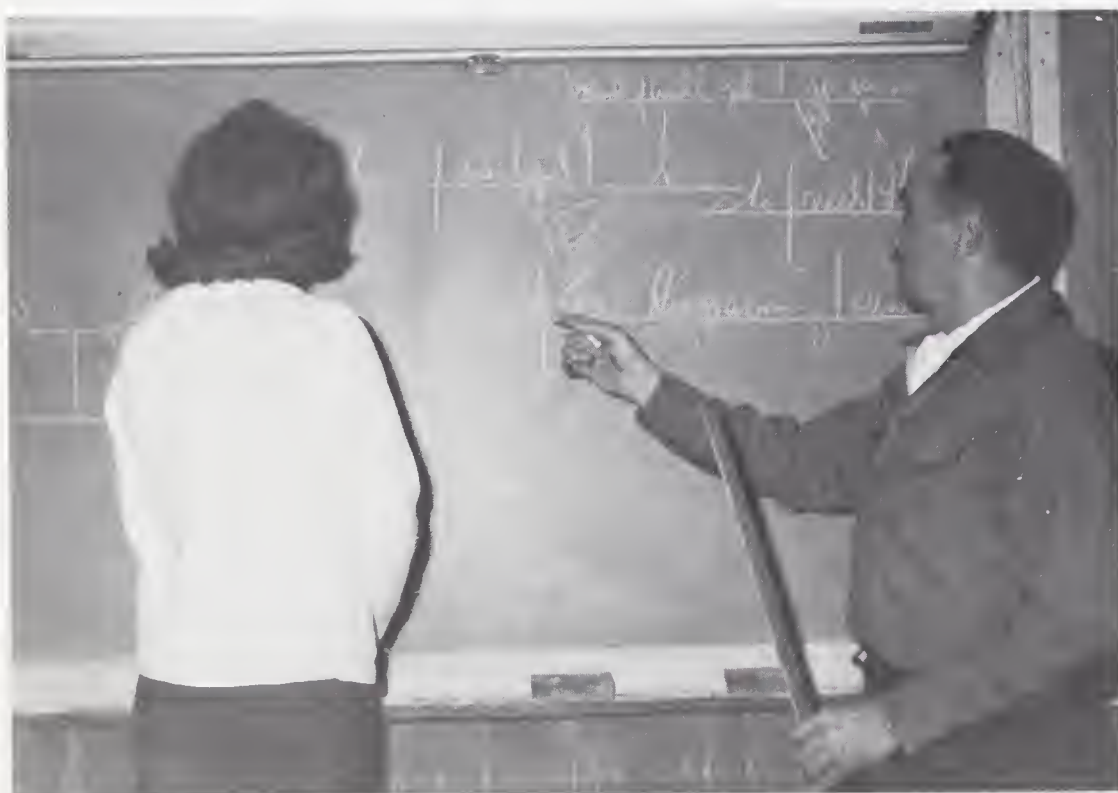

Amanda works on schedule for re-entry

RIGHT: Fifth graders learn parts of speech from Mrs. Maxwell.

BELOW: Glenda has grown tall while mastering sentence structure.

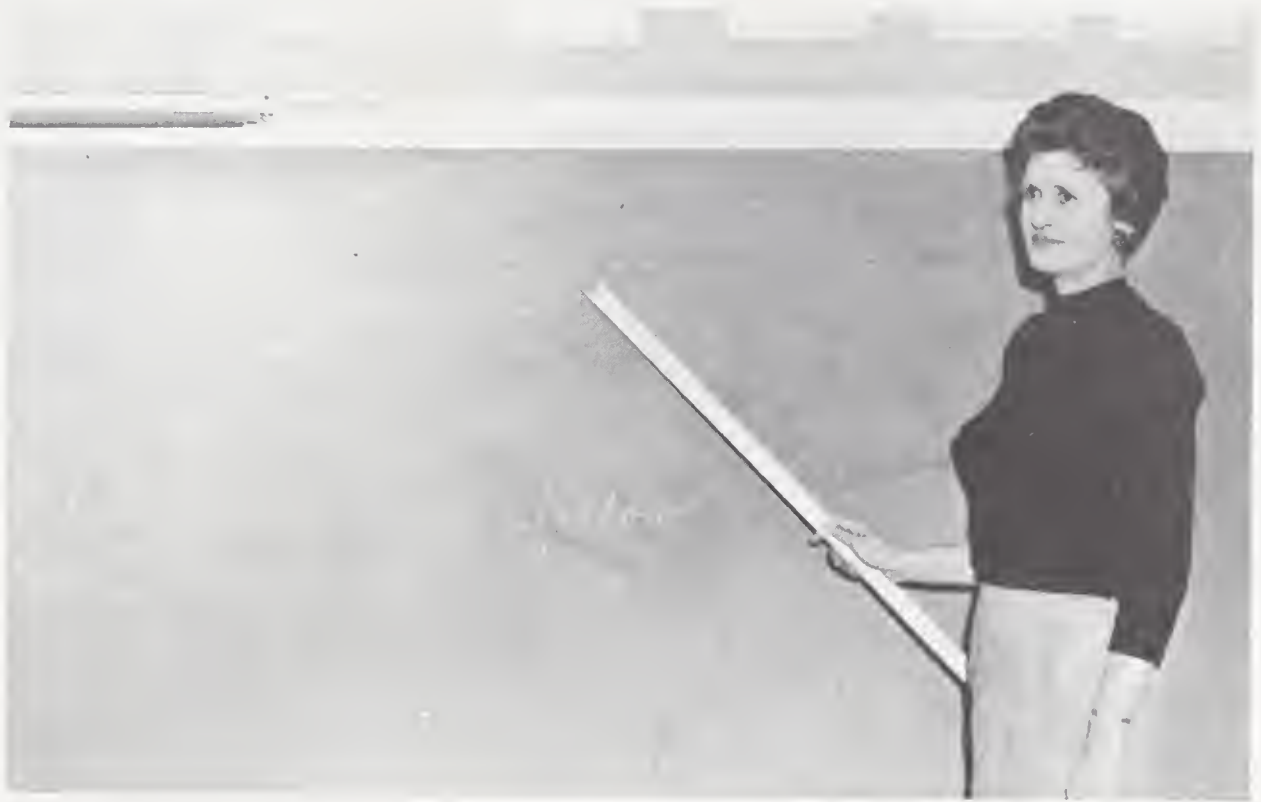

BOTTOM: Graduation in English classroom, where he spent so much of his time, climaxes career of academic perseverance for Gerald as Mr. Walsh presents diploma during third period Senior English class at the end of the first semester.

All these rivers to cross!
All these papers to grade!
Mrs. Phillips leaves for home,
But not to rest in the shade.

English – the tool for effective communication

TOP: Mrs. Whatley explains how to make a pattern for putting thoughts in good form.

AT THE RIGHT: Mrs. Phillips believes that good reading matures thinking and enriches the vocabulary.

BOTTOM: Mrs. Colvard and Beverly discuss ways to make fictional Scooter seem like a real person.

Social Studies Build Citizenship

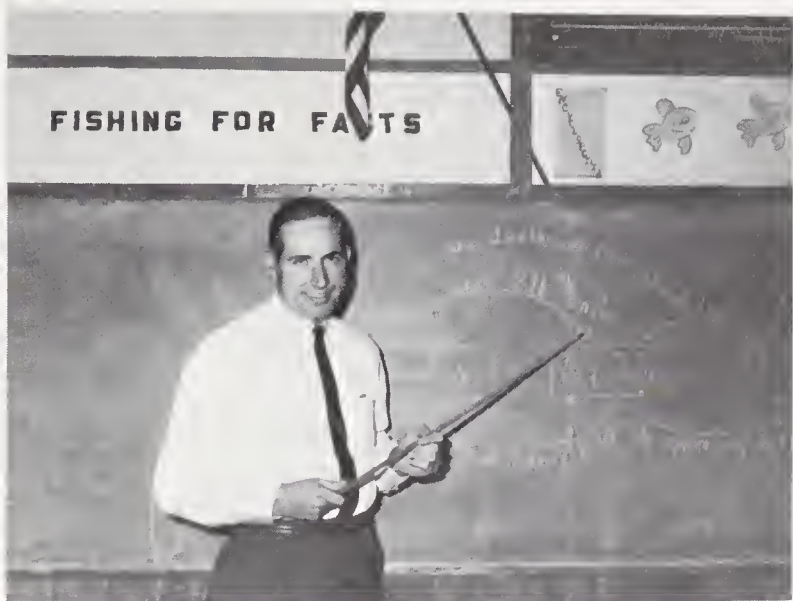

Developing improved attitudes and ideals is the main objective of social studies.

Bottom, Hazel Millsaps' class study about children around the world.

RIGHT: Mrs. Postell's fifth grade portrays by bulletin boards phases in the lives of two of our greatest statesmen.

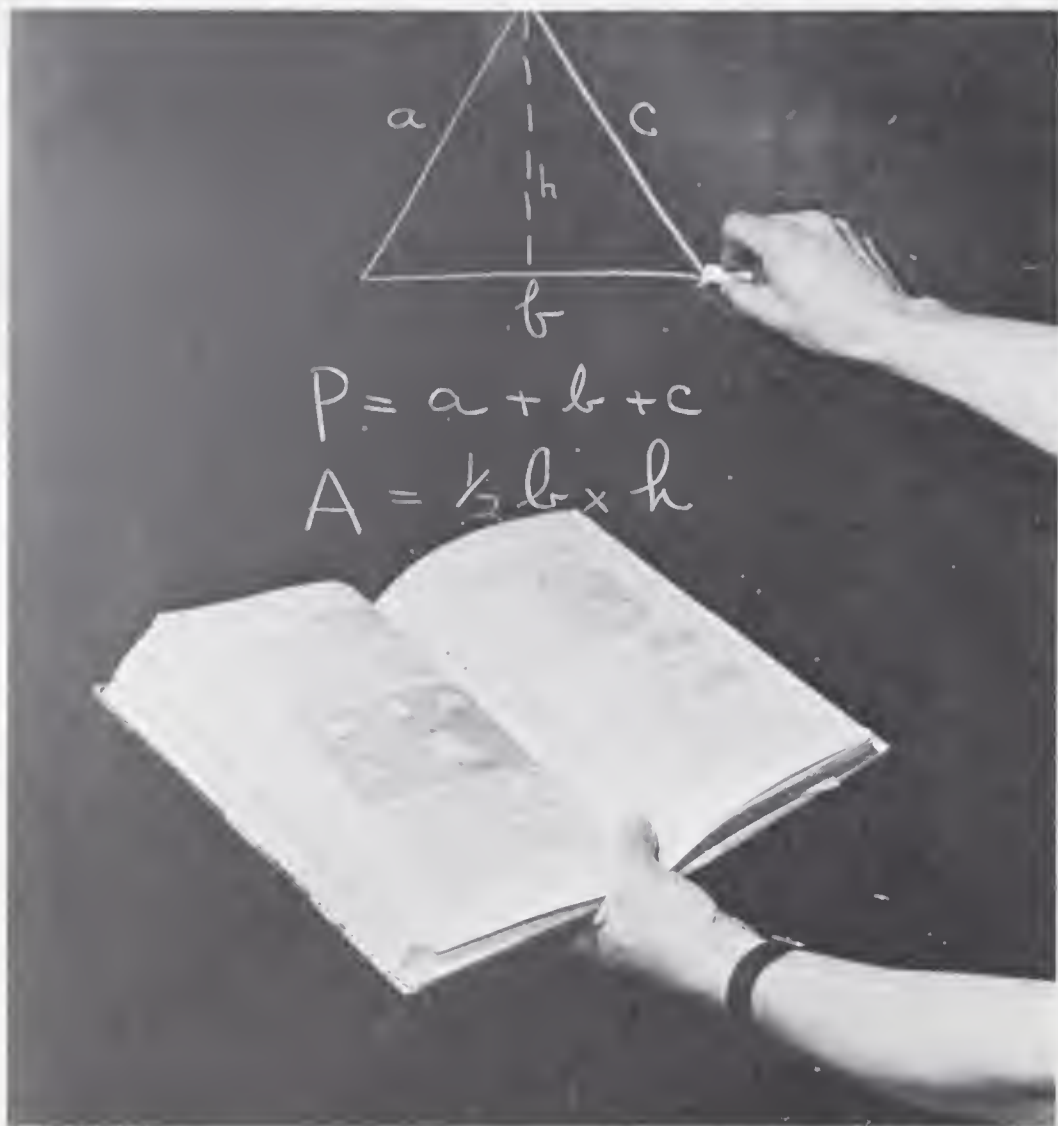

BELOW: Mrs. Long's seventh graders depict causes and heroes of the Civil War.

Business is a way of Life

The Business Department prepares for a better way of life by offering training in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and solving business problems. In addition, it gives the students an opportunity to publish the KNIGHT HERALD and the ROBIN. Top: Miss Garland records the typing speed of her first-year students. Center: Alene Williams strives to increase her typing skill. Bottom: Linda Collins gets in some last minute cramming.

Top: Mrs. Jenkins explains book-keeping procedures.

Right: Lorene Crisp improves her shorthand by continuous practice.

Lower Right: Sue Stewart prepares a newspaper bulletin board.

Bottom: Janette Edwards puts to use her bookkeeping knowledge.

Science: That which helps to explain the happenings in nature that we so often wonder about and misunderstand

The field of science has many opportunities for boys and girls to enrich their understanding of the world about them. We now enjoy many blessings brought about by hard working scientists. Through these studies the science teachers of R. H. S. hope to help some students prepare for vocations in the science field. They hope to develop in all an appreciation of the wonderful working of nature as designed by the Master's hand. Above, Mr. Denton introduces eighth graders to geology. At right, Mrs. Stiles dissects a crayfish for seventh graders. Bottom, Mr. Greene has Joyce and LeRoy explaining an experiment theory.

BELOW: Jerry Crisp is arrayed in his own space helmet, made during the third-grade space study.

RIGHT: Hazel Millsaps' Third-grade pupils learned there were other creatures in space, too.

BELOW: Mrs. Maxwell's fifth-grade students discovered "bugs" everywhere, both helpful and harmful.

A.E. Develops Future Leaders in Business

Distributive Education, under the direction of Mr. Eugene Shope, begins to train young people on how to secure employment.

MIDDLE LEFT, DECA Sweetheart, Cheri Rogers and escort Aquilla Phillips. First Runner-up Freda Orr and escort Ronnie Almond.

BOTTOM, DECA WISHES YOU AN OLD FASHIONED HOLIDAY SEASON, Theme of the DECA entry in the 1966 Christmas Parade.

Girls Learn Homemaking Skills

Homemaking, under the direction and guidance of Mrs. Jeannette Morphew, is no longer the home economics course of the horse and buggy era: namely, "cooking and sewing!"

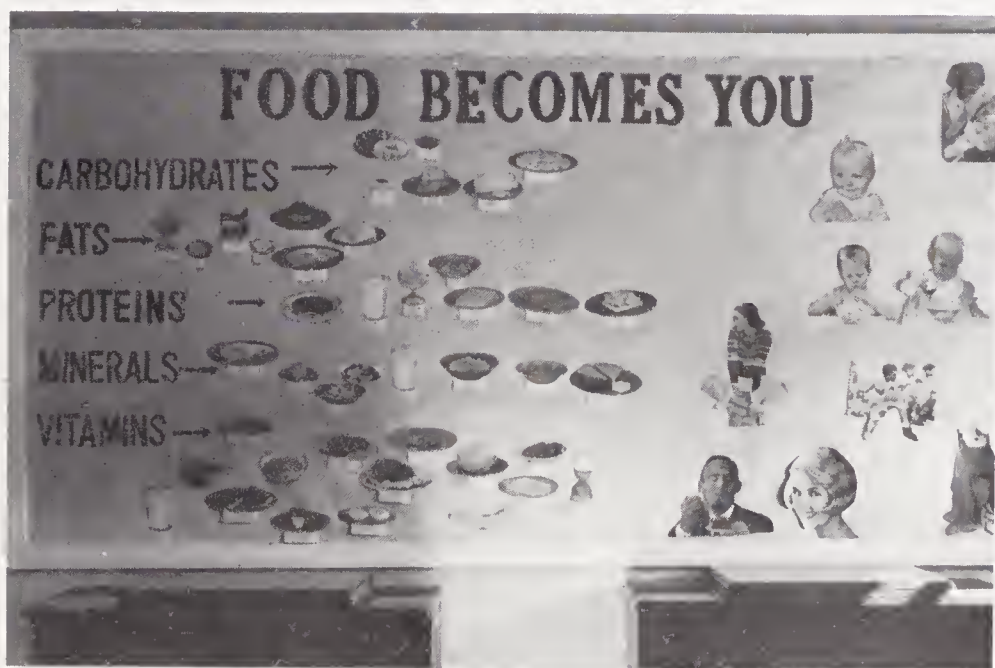

Mrs. Morphew believes the course should be family-centered, to include personal, and family relations, foods, nutrition, and clothing for the family, child development, housing, and home management.

TOP: Mrs. Morphew, Home Economics Director.

RIGHT: Marilyn and Brenda apply construction techniques learned in basic sewing.

BOTTOM: Personal development as a family member is stressed.

TOP: Tenth grade foods class all set for a "testing party."

CENTER: Students studying nutrition, prove that "everything in your body was once in your food."

BOTTOM: Dinah puts finishing touches to Faye's outfit.

School Personnel

Mr. Kenneth Barker, Superintendent of Graham County Schools

Mr. Barker has traveled many miles, worked with tireless interest to find money, materials, and personnel to improve the educational opportunities for Graham County students.

Mr. M. Walsh, High School Principal

Mr. Walsh, whose primary interest is the welfare of the students, has proved a competent leader this year. While being a friend, he has also maintained strict discipline. In his position he finds many puzzling situations. A good example is the following excuse: "Please excuse Carolyn to go home occasionally when she needs to work". signed, Lowell Crisp.

Mr. Thomas A. Carpenter, Elementary Principal

The elementary school program has been enriched by Mr. Carpenter's cooperative attitude and his understanding interest in the problems of the students and the teachers.

Administrative Help

Mrs. Gladys Jordan, Secretary to Mr. Barker

Miss Marvine Dula, Secretary to Mr. Walsh

Office Girls, L-R, Kathleen Rutherford, Nancy Walker, Sue Stewart, Miss Dula, Carolyn Crisp Jennifer Shook, Cheri Rogers, and Yvonne Martin

L-R; Claude Moody, Walt Hyde, Lloyd Millsaps, Chairman;
Tony Ayers, and Kenneth Barker

In Memory of Wayne Marcus

Mr. Marcus's untimely death was a great loss to Graham County schools and to those who knew him as a friend. He served on the Graham County Board of Education for eight years--from April 6, 1955, through March 30, 1963. He also served as Chairman of the Board from April, 1955, to April, 1957. He was re-elected in 1966 to serve another 4-year term.

ALCOHOL IS AN ENEMY OF NATIONS

Dr. Mason Smith said after the fall of France: "The debacle of France can be largely attributed to tuberculosis, syphilis and drinking--especially drinking. France got her sense of security out of a bottle."

Not only France, but other nations have come to ruin because of drink. America had better heed the warnings of history; for America ranks high in the amount of liquor consumed. Our annual drink bill is twelve billion dollars! and our crimes cost--$22,000,000,000 annually--would not be as great if we cut out our liquor bill.

Wise Benjamin Franklin said, "No man ever drank lard into his tub, nor flour into his sack, nor meal into his barrel, nor happiness in his home, nor God into his heart." Gladstone, one of Britain's greatest premiers, said: "The four great scourges of mankind have been drink, war, pestilence and famine--and drink has been more destructive than war, pestilence, and famine combined.
